Adriel,

If you applied some U.S. Government jobs, and depending on what they are, the person calling you back may not state that on an open line, so it is possible that this was a legitimate call.

Additionally, the other recipients on your email were not the right places to send the information, nor was forwarding our previous communication.

If you wish to report this, please reach out to the FBI like you did before or contact your local field office.

Respectfully,
